Gender Mainstreaming in the Implementation and Reporting on Wash and Climate Issues Activities

1.0 Reporting on Gender and Gender Based Violence (GBV)

CCAYEF, using community radio talk shows sensitized Communities to equally divide WASH and environmental protection roles in households irrespective of gender. This was done through announcements that were read out three times a day in specifically villages in Wabwoko and Kyerima parishes for a period of 1 week. Joint monitoring visits and data dissemination were also other strategies that were used.

As a result of such strategies and sensitization, women, youth, children, and the elderly have participated in latrine construction in their homes as below;

1.0.1 Women

A lady in Nakaseeta village for Ngogwe Sub-county constructed a latrine for her mother and 2 widows, one in Wabuyinja village for Kitimbwa Sub-county and the other for Busiitwe village for Ngogwe Sub-county dug pits and constructed latrines in their homes. In Bbuga a certain woman also constructed a latrine with mud and wattle in 2 days, the household already had a complete pit dug by her husband. an old woman. In Nakaseeta village Kitimbwa Sub-county, her daughter dug 15 inch pit hole constructed the walls and paid children to look for grass and she roofed the latrines
